

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

Before Indiana implemented the new NO CALL list I received as many as 22 calls a night from salesmen that I did not want to talk to. Since the new INDIANA NO CALL LAW went into effect I have only received 2 calls at night. These 2 calls came from the Fraternal Order of Police trying to raise funds.

Before the new NO CALL law it was impossible to eat a meal or watch television without interruption. It was impossible for my daughter to do her homework without interruption. I used to work shift work and could not get a decent night's sleep because of the calls waking me up.

Since the NEW NO CALL Law in Indiana went into effect my whole life has changed for the better. I consider it truly wrong for anyone, even the federal government, to take away my right to enjoy the peace and quiet of my home free from unwanted calls. Please do not tamper with the Indiana NO CALL LAW or make any attempt to create new laws that would lessen the impact of that law.
